

HOUSE BILL 1097: Superseding Orders/Domestic Violence.

2019-2020 General Assembly

Committee:	House Rules, Calendar, and Operations of the House. If favorable, re-refer to Rules, Calendar, and Operations of the House	Date:	June 15, 2020
Introduced by:	Reps. John, Rogers, Morey, Brewer	Prepared by:	Tawanda F. Artis Staff Attorney
Analysis of:	Second Edition

OVERVIEW: House Bill 1097 clarifies when subsequent court orders will supersede similar provisions in domestic violence protective orders.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 50B-7 states the remedies in Chapter 50B are not exclusive and clarifies when a subsequent order will supersede similar provisions in a previous domestic violence protective order.

BILL ANALYSIS: This bill clarifies that only subsequent orders under Chapter 50 or Chapter 110 can supersede similar provisions in a prior domestic violence protective order.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective August 1, 2020, and applies to orders in effect on or after that date.

BACKGROUND: G.S. 50B-7(b) was previously amended in Session Law 2019-168. The changes made in this bill are clarifying changes to the language in that session law.
